WEF ANNUAL SUMMIT CONCLUDES WITH A CAUTION AGAINST PROTECTIONISM, INEQUALITY

Global growth is resilient despite Trump disruption: Finance chiefs

WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM
DAVOS 2026

DAVID MCHUGH & JAMEY KEATEN
Davos, January 23

LEADING GLOBAL ECONOMIC policymakers at the World Economic Forum in Davos urged countries and businesses to filter out the turmoil from a week of clashes with the Donald Trump administration and focus on boosting growth and fighting inequality in a world where trade will continue to flow and international cooperation is still badly needed.

The global economy is showing unexpected resilience despite the noise, European Central Bank head Christine Lagarde, International Monetary Fund head Kristalina Georgieva and World Trade Organization head Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala said in a panel discussion on Friday. But while growth is holding up, troubles like worrisome levels of government debt and inequality loom.

That resilience continues despite disruptions from US trade policy under President Donald Trump, who rolled the weeklong forum with threats to impose tariffs on countries supporting Greenland against a US takeover bid, then withdrew the tariff proposal.

What is now needed, they said, are efforts to boost growth to offset heavy debt levels around the world and ensure that disruptive technologies like artificial intelligence don't worsen inequality or devastate labor markets.

And Europe needs to boost productivity and improve its business climate for investment.

Georgieva said the IMF's

Eyeing further acquisitions in consumer space: Godrej

REAL ESTATE-TO-DAIRY CONGLOMERATE GODREJ Industries is eyeing acquisitions in the consumer goods and animal feed sectors despite the high valuations of young companies, Chair Nadir Godrej said.

Dealmaking in the Indian consumer goods and retail sector has picked up as large groups chase growth, reaching a four-year high for January-September, investment bank Equirus Capital said.

What is now needed, they said, are efforts to boost growth to offset heavy debt levels around the world and ensure that disruptive technologies like artificial intelligence don't worsen inequality or devastate labor markets.

And Europe needs to boost productivity and improve its business climate for investment.

Georgieva said the IMF's

stantly looking for acquisitions," Godrej said on the sidelines of the World Economic Forum's annual meeting in Davos. Godrej Consumer Products last year bought men's grooming brand Mucchastac for about ₹450 crore. He also said the group's food and agri business, Godrej Agrovet, is looking for prospects in the animal feed category, but "never found a really good target" as most peers are regional.

recently raised forecast of 3.3% global growth for this year was "beautiful but not enough... do not fall into complacency."

She said that level of growth wasn't enough to wear down "the debt that is hanging around our necks" and that governments need to take care of "those who are falling off the wagon."

Lagarde downplayed a provocative speech at the forum from Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney, who called Trump's approach a "rupture" with an international order based on rules, trade and cooperation and said that way of doing business was "not coming back."

DAVOS DIARY

Macron shades crash Italian maker's site

WHEN FRENCH PRESIDENT Emmanuel Macron walked out onto a Davos stage sporting a pair of reflective blue aviator sunglasses, Stefano Fulchir, the CEO of iVision Tech, did a double take. Based in a small town in Italy, the little-known firm saw its stock surge, jumping more than 60% across three sessions and bringing its market capitalisation to €19 million. "After Macron's speech in Davos, the website crashed due to the volume of orders," Fulchir said.

Trump steals the show with rhetoric, results

US PRESIDENT DONALD Trump took centre stage in his whirlwind visit to Davos this week, overshadowing the yearly gabfest among national leaders, executives and other elites. Trump largely stole the show when it came to politics — from his efforts to end the Ukraine war to a backpedal on Greenland and the establishment of "Board of Peace", which lured a few and bristled others. On his third visit to Davos while president, Trump came and went over about 24 hours.

ICC T20 World Cup: Scotland likely to replace Bangladesh

KUSHAN SARKAR
New Delhi, January 23

A DESPERATE BANGLADESH Cricket Board (BCB) has written to the Dispute Resolution Committee (DRC) of ICC requesting it to overturn the governing body's decision to hold the national men's team's T20 World Cup games in India but its appeal won't be heard as it is outside the remit of the sub-committee.

Even as the ICC has kept Scotland on stand-by, the BCB under Aminul Islam Bulbul, after being completely cornered, decided to use its last resort — approach the DRC headed by Englishman Michael Beloff (Kings Counsel).

"Yes, BCB has approached the DRC of ICC as it wants to exhaust all its options. If DRC rules against BCB, then the only body that can be approached is Court of Arbitration of Sports (CAS) in Switzerland," a BCB source told PTI on condition of anonymity.

Bangladesh's interim government and its sports ministry advisor and anti-India hardliner Asif Nazrul had announced that the team wouldn't travel to India due to "security reasons" after senior pacer Mustafizur Rahman was removed from the Kolkata Knight Riders squad on BCCI's diktat.

Bangladesh pacer Mustafizur Rahman

While the ICC Board of Directors emphatically voted 14-2 in favour of keeping Bangladesh's matches in India after an independent security assessment which cited security threat being "low to moderate", Nazrul said it wasn't the BCB but the government which is mandated to take the decision.

An ICC board source said: "Bangladesh can approach the DRC but if one looks at the rules...the committee doesn't have the remit to hear an appeal which is against the decision made by the Board of Directors." It is understood that ICC chairman Jay Shah, who was in Namibia for the U19 World Cup, is in Dubai now and a formal decision on Bangladesh's replacement would be announced by Saturday.

"The ICC Board Members are extremely angry with Bulbul as to why before informing the global body, a press conference was held. Asif Nazrul is a persona non grata for the ICC but Bulbul shouldn't have allowed a press conference before informing their decision to the ICC," the source said.
